

PAPAIZ PAPAIZ GROUP: SECURITY PRODUCTS

Brazilian based PAPAIZ is probably the world's largest manufacturer of brass padlocks, turning out between 30,000 and 40,000 padlocks a day.

Established in 1952 PAPAIZ now exports to some sixty countries. PAPAIZ padlocks have been distributed in the U.K. by Codringtons Ltd. since 1976. Codringtons hold large stocks of finished products and components in London; our staff are thoroughly trained and experienced and can provide advice, training and ongoing support.

The PAPAIZ range of brass padlocks is unrivalled. There are eight body sizes, many shackle lengths and a choice of hardened steel, stainless steel and brass shackles. The secret lies not just in making a good padlock, but in making a good padlock every time.

Codringtons together with PAPAIZ offer planning advice and full technical support, before, during and after installation. For more information please see the full Papaiz catalogue or give us a call, email or fax, or speak to your local representative. Codringtons will try to ensure that you get the most sound and appropriate solution to match your requirements.

PAPAIZ GROUP SECURITY PRODUCTS

FROM BRASS PADLOCKS TO MORTICE LOCKS

Set up in 1947 in Bologna, Italy, as a small tooling machine factory, Papaiz has been growing continuously for over fifty years becoming one of the world's largest companies in the lock industry. The company's policy has always been to keep abreast in all areas, accompanying technological advances, creating new competitive products for the world market and maintaining a strong presence in Brazil.

The Papaiz Group companies specialize in the manufacture of security products and the production of raw materials.

Papaiz products are made of the best material available on the market. Manufactured using the latest technology by Papaiz Metais or by selected suppliers, our quality control laboratory analyses raw materials and finished products through electronic, physical and chemical tests to always ensure a reliability that defines the Papaiz brand.
